Thank you for considering Emma Rosie's Homecookin' for your next event! Please be sure to read this page in its entirety before browsing through the menu; it will likely answer many questions that may arise. Please call or email with questions and for our availability for your event date. Please note that we do generally require a minimum of forty guests for a catered event, however we may be able to accommodate smaller groups depending on our schedule, so feel free to ask.

About the Menu & Meal Service

Your meal is not necessarily limited to the items on this menu; we can present you with custom options if the items listed here don't suit your event! If you have any special requests for your meal, please let us know, and we will do our best to accommodate. Special dietary needs can generally be accommodated if advance notice is given. All menu items may not be available for all size groups or at all venues; please confirm your choices with us before printing menus, etc. for your event.

The prices listed on this menu include buffet-style service, tended when appropriate, and upscale disposable dinnerware. Samples of disposables are available for viewing upon request. Special order disposables are also available. Stoneware dishes, stainless utensils, and glassware may be available for use depending on venue. Table service is available. Cake service is available.

When you choose us, you will always receive well-presented, flavorful, quality food and personal service including professional, helpful staff to ensure the service at your event goes smoothly. We believe no other caterer in our area offers their customers the same great value we do.

Billing & Payment

Please keep in mind that our calendar often fills quickly, and we may turn away other customers after booking your event in order to ensure you and your event are given proper attention. Because of this we may ask you to sign an agreement and make a deposit to secure your date.

A final guest count is required one week prior to your event, and that is the number we must use for billing purposes. Sales tax must be added to your bill. Some venues charge us a fee to provide food on their premises; any such fee incurred by us will also have to be added to your bill. A gratuity is never added to your bill. An incredible amount of planning, organization, and labor goes into each event. If you were pleased with the service you received, please consider leaving a gratuity. Payment in full is due no later than the day of your event. Cash or check are preferred. If necessary, credit/debit card payments can be made online at our website or in person, however a 4% fee must be charged to cover the processing fee.

This menu is updated frequently, and all prices are subject to change unless you have received a pricing confirmation email from Emma.
